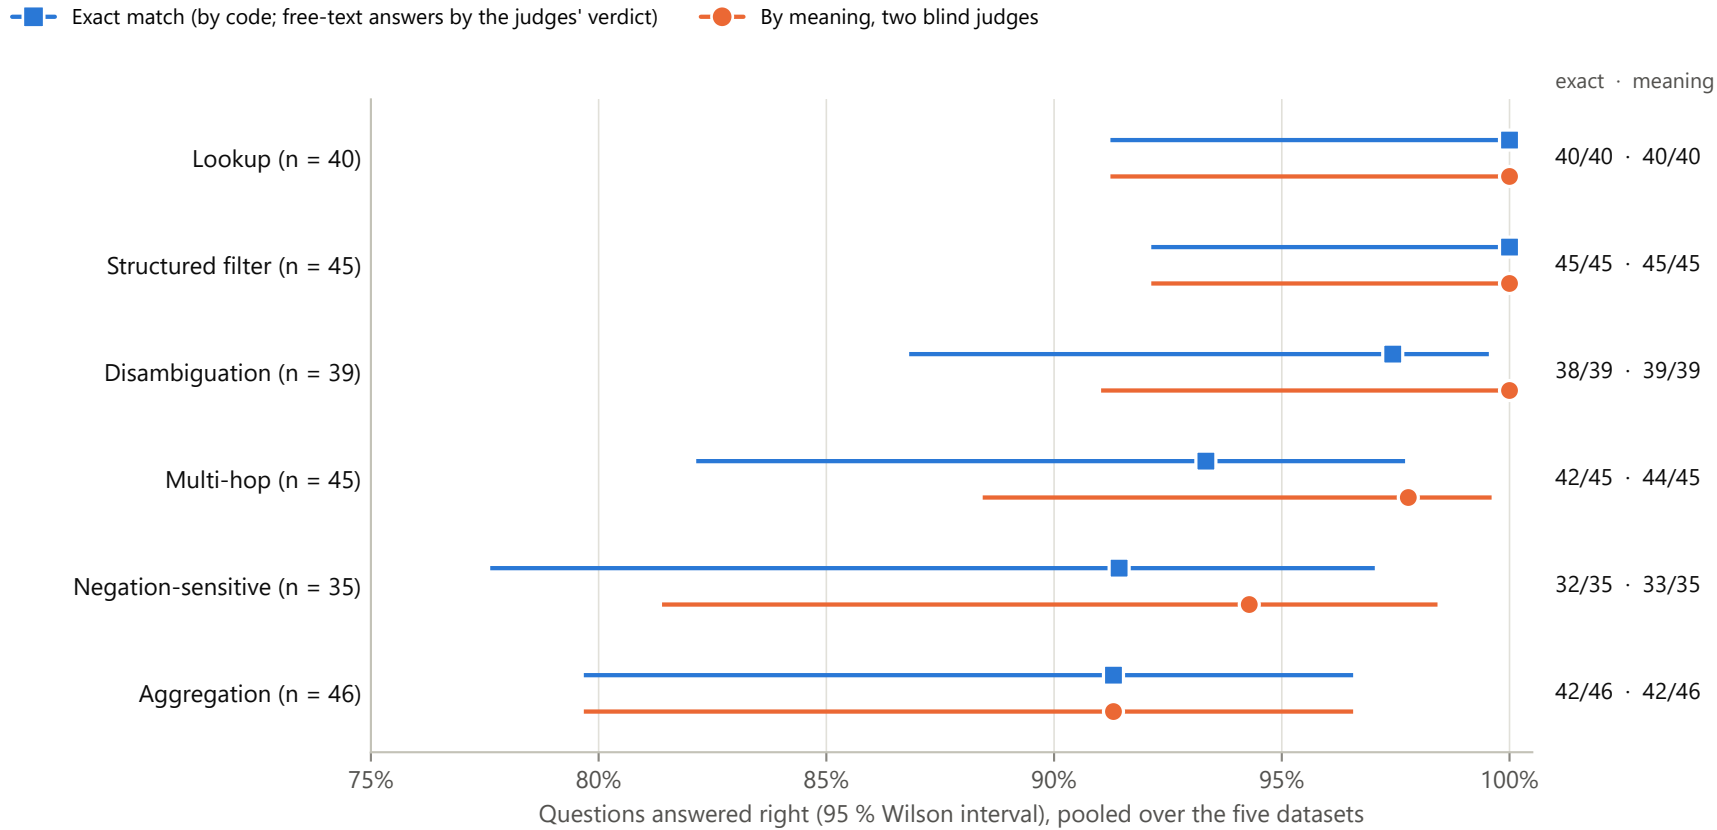
Aggregation and negation-sensitive are the hardest types (42/46, 33/35 by meaning); intervals overlap


R156-R157: the 250 benchmark questions by the type the gold gives them (n per type in the labels). Square: exact match; circle: by meaning; lines are 95 % Wilson intervals; the counts at right are k/n. The axis starts at 75 %.